Expected costs for camp are $350-$450, but could be higher due to unpredictable helicopter costs. To keep costs down and to save the planet, it is important that we keep weight down; all supplies being flown into camp will be weighed (I am not joking). Participants will be limited to 100 pounds of gear per person; any amounts in excess of that will be charged a minimum of $5/pound (I am still not joking).

To apply for the 2010 KMC Climbing Camp, complete the above form, and mail it along with a non-refundable deposit of $100 to:

Make cheques payable to the KMC.
